PUBLIC NOTICE

Municipal Wards Commission Public Hearing and Open House

To ensure the city's population is distributed evenly amongst each of Regina's 10 city wards during municipal elections, the Municipal Wards Commission has developed a proposal to update the current ward boundaries. The last ward boundaries were established in 2019.

The Commission invites public input on the proposed changes. The Commission will hold public hearings on Monday, March 20 in Darlene Hincks Committee room at City Hall at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m., and an open house on Thursday, March 23 from 5:30 to 7 p.m. in City Hall cafeteria to provide more information on the proposed ward boundaries and to gather feedback from residents. After the hearings and open house the Commission will determine final ward boundaries and submit their proposed boundary changes to City Council.
